

Ambulatory Care Planning: Changing the Focus of Care

Finally, a comprehensive and pragmatic approach to planning for ambulatory care! Read about a methodological framework for planning ambulatory services and learn how to apply it to meet your community's needs. Understand the organizational, operational and facility changes necessary to make a successful shift to ambulatory care. Find out how other hospitals have navigated the transition to ambulatory focused care.

This book, written by Lucy Brun and Katy Ginn of Agnew Peckham, was inspired by a large number of clients requesting information on planning for ambulatory care. Through years of research and experience in health care planning, the firm developed the conceptual framework and practical methodology for successful planning and implementation of ambulatory services outlined in this new publication.

Planning for a change in the focus of care has never been more critical. The shift to ambulatory care constitutes a major change in strategic direction. Make sure you succeed in today's dynamic health care environment – use “Ambulatory Care Planning: Changing the Focus of Care” to assist your organization with this challenging planning opportunity.

Yes! I want to order my copy of Ambulatory Care Planning: Changing the Focus of Care – now!

Please send _____ copies at $55.⁰⁰ each = $ _____

Shipping & Handling:
$4.⁰⁰ for first copy* = $ _____

Plus $1.⁰⁰ for each additional copy _____ x $1.⁰⁰ = $ _____

SUBTOTAL = $ _____

Name _____

Organization _____

Address _____

City _____ Province _____ Postal Code _____

Prepayment by cheque or money order only.

Plus GST (#100083260) 7% on subtotal
(Canadian sales only) = $ _____

TOTAL = $ _____

Please mail with payment to:

h e a l t h c a r e c o n s u l t a n t s

Suite 106, 4141 Yonge Street
Toronto, Ontario
M2P 2A8

(416) 924-7451

Fax 924-2268

A G N E W
P E C K H A M

All payments in Canadian funds.

*For US orders, $7.⁰⁰ shipping & handling

1997/ISBN 0-9681742-0-5/160 pages